

Asylum Medicine Training

Hosted by Tufts Human Rights and Asylum Medicine Clinic, a student branch of Physicians for Human Rights

What:

- Free training and certification to perform forensic medical or psychiatric evaluations to support asylum applications
- Open to all physicians, residents, medical students, and other health care providers
- Attendees eligible for CME

When:

- November 9th, 2024
- 9am - 2:30pm
- Dana Center - Maine Medical Center, 22 Bramhall Street Portland, ME 01402
- Refreshments and lunch provided

Why:

- Studies indicate asylum seekers who receive forensic medical evaluations are twice as likely to have their asylum cases approved
- Maine has an extreme shortage of providers trained to perform forensic medical evaluations
